
Greater Richmond, Virginia

Overview

Only a few locations can guarantee the right combination of resources that are crucial to your business's success. Virginia's premier location offers excellent domestic and international access. Centrally located on the U.S. East Coast, more than 47 percent of the U.S. population is within a day's drive, and our integrated transportation system of highways, railroads, airports and seaports ensures that you can reach every one of your markets efficiently. Close proximity to Washington, D.C. facilitates contact with policy makers and the federal government system.

Virginia continues to rank among America's leading states for business by CNBC and Forbes.com. Business-first values, easy access to markets, stable and competitive operating costs, and a talented workforce all drove Virginia to the top. This unique combination of assets has encouraged businesses to prosper here for more than 400 years. Like you, they searched the world over for that convergence of resources that would help ensure their prosperity. For them, their search ended here. Chances are yours will too.

- AAA bond rating- Virginia has maintained a AAA rating since 1938, longer than any other state.
- Right-to-work law allows individuals the right to work regardless of membership in a labor union or organization.
- Corporate income tax rate of 6% has not been increased since 1972.
- Headquarters to 37 Fortune 1000 firms.
- Headquarters to 56 firms each with annual revenue over $1 billion.
- More than 21,400 high-tech establishments operate in Virginia.
- More than 700 internationally-owned businesses from 40 countries are located in Virginia.
- Ranks third among the 50 states as a recipient of federal R&D funds.
- Streamlined permitting process.
- Recruitment training programs to help new businesses become operational faster.
- Programs at little or no cost to help businesses increase international sales.

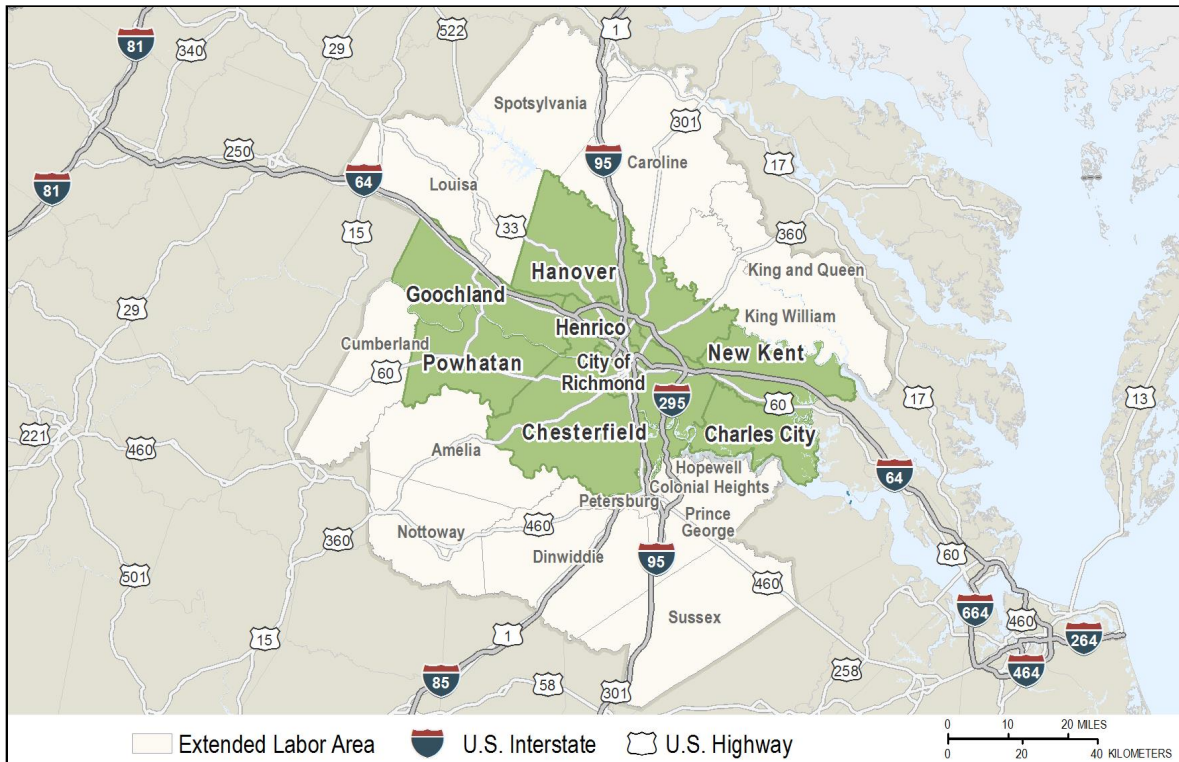

Location

Greater Richmond, located in the center of eastern Virginia, covers 2,136 square miles. The region allows residents and businesses the location advantages of a growing metropolitan area along with considerable acreage for expansion into suburban and rural areas.

Richmond is the state capital and headquarters of the Fifth Federal Reserve District. Additionally, seven Fortune 500 companies are headquartered here. The region is a crossroads of transportation with rail lines radiating in all directions from Richmond. Interstates 64 and 95 converge in the area, and Interstate 85 is directly south.

Richmond is 105 miles south of Washington, D.C., 93 miles north of Norfolk, and 189 miles east of Roanoke.

Greater Richmond

Greater Richmond, Virginia offers many business, personal and lifestyle advantages. A workforce of 580,000, supplemented each year by more than 12,000 college graduates, provides the skills and experience needed by advanced manufacturers such as DuPont and Pfizer as well as financial service providers Capital One and Genworth Financial. The area's affordability is equally appealing to life science startups at the Virginia Biotechnology Research Park and to Fortune 500 headquarters such as Altria and CarMax. Cultural and recreational offerings rivaling those in larger cities and a 24-minute average commute make the area an "easy move" for top-level professionals and managers.

Career Readiness Certificate (06/30/2017-06/30/2018)

Virginia's Career Readiness Certificate (CRC) assists employers by certifying that a recipient possesses core skills in applied math, reading for information, and locating information. The CRC certification is based on established Workeys® assessment tests. Virginia uses a three-tiered approach (bronze, silver, gold) to credentialing certificate holders that is based on the recipient's level of development skills.

Government and Taxes

Government

Greater Richmond includes the city of Richmond plus Charles City, Chesterfield, Goochland, Hanover, Henrico, New Kent, and Powhatan Counties. The city has a mayor and city council. Each county has a county administrator and board of supervisors.

All localities have comprehensive plans and zoning and subdivision ordinances.

There is one incorporated town in Greater Richmond.

Chesterfield and Henrico Counties maintain a AAA bond rating.

Taxes

Localities in Virginia collect a 1% sales tax. They do not tax other items taxed at the State level.

Counties and cities in Virginia are separate taxing entities. Therefore, a company pays taxes to either a county or to a city.

If a company is located in a town, it pays town and county taxes except for utility taxes which are paid only to the town and the license tax which is paid only to the town unless town law permits the additional collection of a county tax.

Manufacturers pay real estate, machinery and tools, truck and automobile, utility, and sales taxes.

Nonmanufacturers pay real estate, tangible personal property, truck and automobile, utility, and sales taxes. They also may pay either a merchants' capital or a license tax.

Community Facilities

The finest medical care is available in Greater Richmond. The Richmond metropolitan area has been designated by the American Medical Association as a Prime Medical Center, meaning that residents have local access to virtually all the services of modern medical science. Twenty-two hospitals and more than 5,700 patient beds are located in the area. Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) Health, in downtown Richmond, is ranked among the top medical centers on the East Coast, and is highly regarded as a leader in research and teaching and for its sophisticated patient care.

The Richmond region has more than 3,500 physicians and 17 acute care and specialty hospitals with nearly 4,000 beds. Included are Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) Medical College of Virginia (MCV) Hospitals with more than 600 beds and McGuire Veterans Affairs Medical Center with 399 beds. All medical specialties and services are available, including Level I Trauma Center, cancer and cardiac care, neonatal intensive care, and organ transplantation.

MCV Hospitals and VCU's five health science schools make up the most comprehensive teaching medical center in Virginia. MCV is regularly ranked among the top hospitals in America.

Community Facilities

HCA and Bon Secours are the area's other major service providers.

HCA Richmond Health System is part of HCA Healthcare, the nation's leading provider of healthcare services. HCA's Richmond area facilities include CJW Medical Center with two campuses (Chippenham and Johnston-Willis); Henrico Doctors Hospital with three campuses (Forest, Parham and Retreat); John Randolph Medical Center in Hopewell; and numerous outpatient facilities.

Bon Secours Richmond Health System is a not-for-profit Catholic health system with four hospitals in the Richmond metropolitan area: St. Mary's Hospital, Memorial Regional Medical Center, Richmond Community Hospital, and St. Francis Medical Center. The Reynolds Crossing Heart Institute opened 2008.

Over 20 nursing homes are located in the region. In the city of Richmond alone, nine nursing homes provide beds for nearly 1,000 patients.

More than 800 places of worship are located in Greater Richmond. Most Protestant denominations are represented, as are Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Jewish faiths.

Greater Richmond has more than 30 public library facilities that hold approximately 1,900,000 volumes. Reciprocal arrangements exist between localities allowing easy access to other collections. In addition, libraries of eight area colleges and universities are publicly available.

Greater Richmond represents one of the largest retail concentrations between Washington, D.C. and Atlanta. Downtown Richmond offers a diverse retail mix with a variety of locally owned businesses. Outside downtown, over 50 shopping centers make shopping easy and convenient. The range of choices for consumers runs from major regional malls such as Stony Point Fashion Park, Short Pump Town Center; Chesterfield Towne Center, Regency Square, Virginia Center Commons, the recently renovated Willow Lawn, and small neighborhood retail centers.

Greater Richmond offers a wide range of cultural attractions. There are 17 museums in the metropolitan area including the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Science Museum of Virginia, and the Valentine Museum. Musical entertainment is varied with the Richmond Symphony, Richmond Philharmonic, and the Virginia Opera Association representing just a few of the numerous organizations presenting regular productions to the community. The area also hosts a number of touring Broadway musicals, jazz and other guest performances to complement local organizations. The Richmond Ballet and the Concert Ballet of Virginia add to the diversity in the performing arts. Two outdoor amphitheaters attract thousands of patrons to enjoy an eclectic mixture of entertainment under the stars.

Both public and private recreational facilities are available throughout the region. Thousands of acres of parks and recreational facilities are available for both indoor and outdoor enthusiasts. The localities offer year-round comprehensive programs of activities and events for all ages. Programs offered include arts and crafts, dance, music, sports, games, and special events. The region is home to 38 golf courses, along with numerous private swim and racquet clubs, and fitness centers.

The James, Appomattox, Pamunkey, York and Chickahominy Rivers provide an excellent setting for water sports including swimming, boating, canoeing, water skiing, and fishing. The James River is a major recreational resource for the community. Over 10,700 acres of park land runs along both sides of the river. Hunting deer, turkey, quail, and squirrel is also popular.

Sporting events include the Richmond Marathon, professional golf and tennis, cycle racing, NASCAR stock car racing, the Richmond Kickers professional soccer team, the Flying Squirrels double A baseball team, and the Richmond Roughriders arena football team. The City of Richmond also hosts the Washington Redskins training camp during the summer. College sporting events are also favorite spectator pastimes. Virginia Commonwealth University's men's basketball team and the University of Richmond men's basketball team are perennial contenders in the Atlantic 10 conference.

Kings Dominion, a major amusement and theme park is located in Hanover County. Another major theme park, Busch Gardens is located in nearby Williamsburg, less than one hour away. The coastal beaches of Virginia, the famed Blue Ridge Mountains, and Washington D.C. are within a two-hour drive from the area. History buffs will find a wealth of significant attractions of interest in the region. Close to Richmond are Colonial Williamsburg, Yorktown, Jamestown, Monticello, Colonial-era plantations and the Civil War Battlefields.
