The center of "All things retail"
Over the past 20 years, Colonial Heights has evolved into a key regional retail destination. Located along Interstate 95, just 20 miles south of Richmond, Colonial Heights represents the last retail center between Richmond and the North Carolina border. Shoppers from as far west as Farmville travel to the area for major shopping needs. The city is promoting commercial development and has expanded its infrastructure to meet the growing demands. With over 20,000 soldiers and their families moving to Fort Lee over the next few years, the Colonial Heights market offers many profitable possibilities for retailers and developers.

Key regional shopping center, Southpark Mall, has served southside central Virginia for more than twenty years.

Virginia’s Career Readiness Certificate (CRC) assists employers by certifying that a recipient possesses core skills in applied math, reading for information, and locating information. The CRC certification is based on established Workeys® assessment tests. Government and Taxes

Government

Colonial Heights has a City Manager and a seven-member City Council.

The city has a comprehensive plan and zoning and subdivision ordinances.

Taxes

Localities in Virginia collect a 1% sales tax. They do not tax other items taxed at the State level.

Counties and cities in Virginia are separate taxing entities. Therefore, a company pays taxes to either a county or to a city.

If a company is located in a town, it pays town and county taxes except for utility taxes which are paid only to the town and the license tax which is paid only to the town unless town law permits the additional collection of a county tax.

Manufacturers pay real estate, machinery and tools, truck and automobile, utility, and sales taxes.

Nonmanufacturers pay real estate, tangible personal property, truck and automobile, utility, and sales taxes. They also may pay either a merchants’ capital or a license tax.
